Miss USA, Miss Nevada Teen USA rev up some pageant hopefuls

Sanchez, right, poses with Miss Nevada Teen USA Alicia Taylor at the event. Taylor, formerly Miss Southern Teen USA, won the Nevada crown in January. She will compete in the Miss Teen USA competition at the Atlantis Paradise Island resort in the Bahamas on Aug. 2.

Alison and Inna Sanchez, Taylor and Miss Nevada USA Executive Director Sherrie Musker speak to pageant hopefuls about the life of pageant competition and give tips about how to bring home the crown before posing for photos with them and signing autographs Saturday.

At left, Musker checks out a Fiat at the event, which was also a celebration of Tucson Fiat being added as the official premium sponsor of the Miss Nevada USA and Miss Nevada Teen USA pageants. In addition to the recruitment event, Musker and Sanchez reunited with former Miss Nevada USA contestants during their time in Las Vegas.
